THE COUNTDOWN IS ON

Deep Space Adventure 30 Days, 30 Fun Facts

Starting on July 8, take a trip to deep space on the observation deck of a futuristic starship in the Grainger Sky Theater. Watch as a star is torn apart by a black hole, witness a collision of two massive galaxies, and encounter a dramatic supernova explosion!

Join us in counting down the final 30 days until launch with a fun fact each day about Deep Space Adventure!

#30: June 8

The Grainger Sky Theater is more than a theater - it is a space simulation environment. It has the ability to view the Universe from any time, place or distance, totally at the control of the operator.

Follow the Deep Space Adventure countdown on Adler's Facebook and Twitter pages (see Quick Links below).

DARK UNIVERSE LECTURE

Thursday, June 9
7 pm, Definiti Space Theater

Over the last decade, cosmologists have discovered that 96% of our Universe is made up of Dark Matter and Dark Energy. Dark Matter holds galaxies together and is the key ingredient in their formation. Dark Energy is the mystery substance that is causing the expansion of the Universe to speed up.

Learn about the experiments that are investigating the Dark Universe and take a tour of the large-scale Universe projected in the Adler's Definiti Space Theater. Presented by Josh Frieman, director of the Dark Energy Survey, a collaboration of over 120 scientists from 20 institutions on three continents.

$10 general admission, $5 for Adler members and students with ID.
