

THE ADLER PLANETARIUM BRINGS SCIENCE TO YOU
THIS FALL & WINTER WITH 'SCOPES IN THE CITY 2015

CHICAGO – October 14, 2015 – All year long, Adler astronomers and educators are bringing the museum—and the Universe—a little closer to you! With 'Scopes in the City, Adler team members lead free sky-observing programs and related conversations in Chicago neighborhoods. Depending on the dates, times and locations of the 'Scopes in the City events, attendees may be able to observe the Sun, Moon, Jupiter, Saturn, and more.

"I'm extremely pleased that 'Scopes in the City is back for a second year. Engaging with people in Chicagoland's neighborhoods is a priority for the Adler, and 'Scopes in the City is a great way to excite people to #LookUp!" said Dr. Michelle Larson, Adler Planetarium president & CEO.

With the generous support of Magellan Corporation, the 2015 installment of 'Scopes in the City has been bigger and better than ever. Below are the remaining 2015 'Scopes in the City events. Please visit our website at www.adlerplanetarium.org/scopes-in-the-city for more information, and additional events as they are added.

About the Adler:

The Adler Planetarium—America's First Planetarium—is more than a museum; it is a laboratory, a classroom, and a community exploring the Universe together. Each year, nearly 500,000 visitors experience the museum's interactive exhibitions, live planetarium shows, hands-on, minds-on STEM education programs, and world-class collections. Founded in 1930 by Chicago business leader Max Adler, the Adler Planetarium is a recognized leader in public engagement. The museum's scientists, historians, and educators inspire the next generation of explorers and invite you to explore space with us.
